forty be, in any sense of the word, passe?" asked Mr. Terhune the other day at the Monona Lake Assembly. And then she answered the question in a paper that was full of the simplest yet the saddest and most pathetic sen-tences that one is likely to hear for her to the threshold of a hundred new ones. She thinks sometimes of the culture she is losing, but she has no time Here are duties that will not be waved aside. She is a good mother, and her children shall not be neglected.

She loses her touch with the women whose cares are lighter. She forgets much that she once knew well. She bends every energy that the children may have advantages. She would feel that she had done a selfish, an unpar-

that! They compare her with some one, and she suffers. Without meaning it or knowing it she loses interests in the that. To avoid it is the very thing for whichshe sacrificed herself. She hasmade duty her slave so long that duty is her master. She cannot escape from the treadmill she has builded. She goes her weary way till the day is done, and even in sleep she dreams of toiling. All her associates drift further and further Her circle narrows until she stands in the centre—alone. There is not a throb from her brain that is an-

when they can outrun her—outthink her? And when they have gone and left her alone, and the echoes are loud where laughter used to live, what has she? Neglected, forgotten, unrequited, unthanked, in many things ignorant, in many things dull, the measure of suffering that must be hers will simply be the measure of possibility that was hers the day she wed.—Chicago Herald.

mer, Dr. Wiggins, is dissapointed in and inclined to discredit the Lick Observatory refutation of Schiaparilli's conclusion that the planet Mars has three great parallel canals, planet Mars has three great parallel canals, evidently built by human beings. Dr. Wiggins thinks Mars must be a far more desirable world to live in than our own, because there is only a small region near the poles where winter exists, and since it has no excessive heat. "As it is many million years older than the earth," he said "I judge that its inhabitants must be much more intelligent than we and probably live for hundreds of years."

Professor Porter, of the Cincinnati Observatory, said yesterday that a gross error had been made by American astronomers as to the apposition of Mars. "The American Ephemeris,' the standard nautical almanac, has undoubtedly guided the astronomers of the time of our opposition with the red planet as clearly as possible at a little after midnight August 6. The error is so apparent that I cannot understand it. The astronomers and the newspapers of the Western world have been antedating the event by three days."
